Table Row Height Defaults

Both rows declare the same 24pt w:trHeight. The green row omits hRule, which Microsoft Word treats as atLeast, while the red row explicitly uses exact and has a 12pt bottom cell margin.

OMITTED hRule	Line one remains visible. Line two grows the row.
EXPLICIT exact	One line remains at the fixed height.

Expected: the green row expands beyond 24pt to show both lines. The red row is 36pt high: Word adds its largest 12pt bottom cell margin to the explicit 24pt exact height.
